

The City of Minneapolis will take part in “Welcoming Week”
Sept. 15-24—a nationwide initiative designed to bring together immigrants, refugees and native-born residents.

For more information about Welcoming Week, go to minneapolismn.gov/WeAreMpls

The City is hosting two community events to foster dialogue and understanding about Minneapolis' rich diversity and to stand up for immigrants and refugees in our community:

5-7 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 19 at the Brian Coyle Center, 420 15th Ave. S. The event will feature a panel discussion, information from community organizations and several interactive activities, including storytelling and a chance to share thoughts on what makes a welcoming city.

4:30-6:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 21 at Powderhorn Park, 3400 15th Ave. S. The event will focus on youth experience of immigration, including a panel discussion and artwork. (In case of rain, the event will be held nearby at Wellstone International School, 3328 Elliot Ave. S.)
